

Preliminary Announcement of Conference

The Third ISLOJ
INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON THE LANGUAGES OF JAVA

23-24 June 2011

Malang, East Java, Indonesia

The third International Symposium on the Languages of Java will be held 23-24 June 2011, in Malang, East Java, Indonesia. As in the past, this conference will focus on all linguistic aspects of the languages of Java, broadly understood: Javanese, Sundanese, Madurese, Balinese, and Sasak; and also, possibly, varieties of Malay spoken in those language areas.

A call for papers and further information on the conference will follow shortly.

Please address all questions to Thomas Connors at oranghutan@cbn.net.id

Co-sponsors:

Universitas Negeri Malang

Universitas Islam Malang

Universitas Katolik Atma Jaya

Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology

Co-organizers:

J. Joseph Errington, Yale University

Zane Goebel, La Trobe University

Thomas Connors, Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology

Yacinta Kurniasih, Monash University

Effendi Kadarisman, Universitas Negeri Malang

Meinarni Susilowati, Universitas Islam Malang